The U.F.A. Meeting Held on April 6th

Mr. Norman Priestly Delivers an Interesting and Instructive Address

The meeting was called to order by Mr. McBride, President of the local organization. He introduced the speaker Mr. Priestly. There were about 35 farmers present also a number of ladies.

Mr. Priestly, in opening his address briefly outlined his travels throughout the Province and mentioned the local gathering to be the smallest he had addressed.

Speaking on the U. F. A. as a goodfellowship organization he made mention of charitable deeds done by members where the U. F. A. was well organized.

In the course of his address he declared the farmers were the least organized, and a door mat of the economic system for the others to wipe their feet on.

He also made mention of the unfairness of some of the daily papers towards the Alberta Government and advocated a wider distribution of the U. F. A. paper, and a further creation of interest in the reading of same for reliable information.

The following are some of the high lights of Mr. Priestly's address.

We are proud of having farmer representatives in Ottawa.

The wheat pool was not the cause of the world depression.

We have had depressions before the wheat pool was organized.

What we are trying to do in Alberta is to organize to operate.

Mr. Priestly also brought in the subject of religion and pointed out that the difference of religious beliefs should not have any bearing on the U. F. A. organization.

You will be interested to know that in High River we have a 5200 gal. car of lubricating oil for the locals, and many other car loads of oil throughout the province.

He spoke on the co-operative buying plan.

He pointed out the advantages of being organized both for business and social activities.

We are building a new social order.

He mentioned the co-operative movement in Russia.

We must build here in Alberta a co-operative social order.

Questions were asked regarding buying twine etc. and answered by Mr. Priestly.

Twine for next fall is on a strictly cash basis.

The U. F. A. paper is forwarded to every member of the wheat pool.

Mr. Priestly spoke for one hour and ten minutes. His address was very instructive. He is a quiet, fluent speaker with the ability to hold the interest of his audience.

The meeting closed in the usual way by a round of applause from the audience for the speaker.

The Ice Cream Parlor, will open on Saturday, April 16th.

Crop Report No. 1

Issued by the Department of Agriculture, Province of Alberta, Edmonton.

Alberta enters the 1932 crop season with conditions over the greater part of the province more favorable with respect to reserve and surface moisture than those which have prevailed for some years. Over a considerable portion of the province, chiefly in the central and northern regions, there appears to be an excellent supply of moisture, making the soil conditions ideal for spring operations.

High winds are reported from one or two places with consequent soil drifting to a small extent. In certain districts a considerably increased infestation of cutworms and grasshoppers is anticipated.

In a few places in the Southern districts, work is already under way on the land, and will become general within the coming week.

The sugar beet districts report fairly good germination prospects, and Raymond district is particularly optimistic in this respect, with the report that owing to abundance of moisture, germination of beets there should be much improved over last year.

The total amount of summer fallow for this year's crop is estimated to be practically the same as in 1931, namely 3,250,000 acres. Very little fall plowing was done throughout the province, the estimate being placed at 225,000 acres.

There will be large requirements for seed grain and feed in the relief areas of the south and the usual arrangements have been made by the Provincial Department of Agriculture to meet these needs. The

Larsen Implements Install Modern Free Air Service

Larsen Implements have installed a new Curtiss automatic air compressor at their garage. As this is an electric automatic compressor, carrying a pressure of 125 lbs., it will give a twenty-four hour service seven days a week, and car-owners will be able to get a satisfactory pressure at all times, which should be appreciated in the free air service.

Regular Meeting Arrowwood Council

A regular meeting of the Arrowwood Council was held in the town office on April 6th, all Councillors and the Secretary being present.

The meeting opened with the reading of the minutes of the meeting of March 1st. Councillor Leonard moved that the minutes be adopted as read.

Correspondence of the month consisting of letters from Bagley and McManus, re. Secretary's bond which was ordered renewed. A Letter from Alberta Assessment Commission, re assessment of Calgary Power Co. Works and another letter from the same source informed the Council that the equalized assessment for the town is the same this year as 1931 and will remain the same for 1933 also.

Letters from the General and Holy Cross Hospital were also dealt with.

Moved by Councillor Lewendon and carried unanimously that the people most concerned be warned of the dangerous state of the cornice on the L. F. Chrestenson store building and at the same time inform them that the village will not be held responsible for any injury that may result to anyone from falling pieces from the cornice.

The secretary was instructed to place a notice in the local paper requesting the residents of the town to clean up their lots, yards, alleys etc, adjacent to their property thereby adding to the appearance of the town and lessening danger of fire.

Moved by Councillor Beagle to adjourn.

Weight of Truck Loads Restricted to Save Roads

In an effort to protect the highways of the province from damage from unduly heavy loads during the period in which the frost is coming out of the ground and the roads generally are in a softened condition, the provincial highways department has placed certain restrictions on the weight of loads permitted to be carried by trucks, during the period from April 11th to 24th. This period may be extended if conditions warrant, or the re-

Petitions for Daily Mail Being Circulated

Petitions are being circulated this week for the securing of a daily mail service between Gleichen and Arrowwood. The Committee is anxious to have as many names attached as possible, as every assistance is required to present our wishes to the Postal Department.

Buffalo Hill News

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Jennejohn visited in Edmonton last week with Norman and Eleanor, who are attending university in that city. Mr. Jennejohn returned on Monday, but Mrs. Jennejohn will remain till after the examinations.

Friends of Miss Alice Tharle will be pleased to hear that she will be graduating from the Calgary General Hospital some time this month. Alice passed with high marks, especially from the maternity ward. We extend our best wishes to Nurse Tharle for her success in her chosen profession. Nurse Tharle is well known throughout the district, having attended school in Arrowwood.

Mr. A. E. Starling, accompanied by a neighbor, visited in Turner Valley Oil Fields last Saturday, and while there met a former Arrowwood resident, Mr. J. R. Shearer, who in conversation enquired for old friends at Arrowwood and remarked that things were quiet at Black Diamond, the same as everywhere else.

We notice that the writer of Buffalo Hill notes did not mention the name of the neighbor that accompanied Mr. Starling on his trip to Turner Valley — we wonder if it was a lady. Ed.

Does Hockey Lead the Churches

It was our privilege to attend the banquet given the Gunners. And among many complimentary remarks there was one distinctive positive contribution. The toast to the players from points other than Gleichen was responded to by Mr. Bond of Bassano. The guest of the citizens of Gleichen, it was most natural that he should say that the boys from outside points considered it an honor to play with the Gunners. But then he left the beaten track and started talking about the duty of players from other places to give their support. This long forgotten was actually preached in the year of our Lord 1932 and at a hockey banquet at that. It is true that some have dared in this self-centred age, to talk about our duty to ourselves and to our merchants and to our town but who has heard in late years a voice raised to tell of duties to other people?

No, we have no protest to make regarding the amount of money spent on sport, nor against the place it holds in the news of today. No, hockey puts up one of the very best shows. And that reminds us of a story of the family who came home from church and they criticized the choir and the soloist and the preacher and every thing else. And finally Junior chipped in with, "Well, I consider it a pretty good show for two bits." But the church should not be classed with the show at least in worship and teaching. Its place is with the home and the school and if it succeeds in attracting the crowd for the entertainment it provides, it does so at the expense of its own soul. No, we have no invidious comparisons to make between the hockey rink and periods of worship. But when a magistrate hockey fan gets up at a hockey banquet and talks about duty and others well one can't help but think of the church and its message.

Frankly, in our very short residence in this part of the country, it is the first positive note we have heard from any person or at a gathering of any kind. And you will pardon if for the third time we swing back to the same thought. If those who play hockey have a DUTY are they the only people so burdened, or perchance have church folk duties too? If the imperative "ought" has crept into the lives of one class, is it possible for the rest of us to escape? And if the responsibility for this group extends to other towns, and I am sure that the good magistrate would let us extend his thought to other provinces and countries—then possibly one town has a duty towards the church life in another province, town or country containing harmless substances. The electric fixture becomes loose and is allowed to remain so.

Now Mr. Magistrate, we wish to thank you for your timely message. It may get home, even yet.

It is just because we are careless in regard to these and other similar things that people take poison unknowingly, or we find so many broken bones, sprained joints and bruises as the result of falls in a home.

The trouble is that we take chances every day, and no harm results. This goes on until we become careless, and then, one day, the accident happens. Most accidents are due to our own faults and no one is to blame but ourselves. It is a question of personal responsibility, and not all the safety laws in the world will protect us unless we do our part.

The reason why we write this article is because we see the number of accidents increasing. Those who value their health and strength must give heed not only to preventing disease and to living a hygienic life, but they must also take reasonable precautions to protect themselves from injury.

Prevention

We find occurring a surprisingly large number of accidents which lead to suffering, permanent disability and not a few deaths. It is obvious therefore that it is most desirable to prevent accidents and to take reasonable precautions with that object in view.

Sickness might, in many cases, be classed as an accident for in its occurrence, there is the element of chance in contact with disease germs but in this article we use the term "accident" to describe unexpected and unforeseen injuries to the body.

We give the name accident to many injuries which really should not be thus called because they are the result of our carelessness and could be foreseen. If we run in front of a motor car the injury which follows could be foreseen, and so is the result of our carelessness or thoughtlessness. Such an injury should not really be called an accident, but we generally use the term to describe all injuries whether or not they are the result of our own lack of care.

This point is stressed because if you think of all the accidents of which you have heard, you will find that most of them would not have occurred if reasonable care had been taken. It is because we take so many chances that so many accidents happen.

Accidents do not all occur away from home; a very large percentage of them happen right in our homes. We stand on and reach from a chair instead of using a step ladder. The rug is torn and we neglect to mend it until someone trips and has a fall. We fail to remove snow or to cover it with sand, and someone slips on the icy steps. We leave poisons on the same shelf with bottles

Changes in the management of Maritime Province summer hotels of the Canadian Pacific Railway will shortly become official. Joseph A. Among deeds of heroism at sea, the rescue of the 27 men of the salvage ship Reindeer by volunteer seamen of the S.S. Montcalm recently will rank high. Ably seconded by Captain Rothwell who steered the Montcalm to make a line for the lifeboat, and with very heavy seas running, the men under Second Officer Knight put through "as pretty a piece of work as one could wish to see," was the comment of J. G. Ross, of Moose Jaw, former M.P. for that city, who was a passenger and witnessed the rescue from start to finish. (231)

John Deere-Van Brunt Pony Press Grain Drill Furnished with Pulverizer-Packer —or Tongue Truck

Here is the new John Deere-Van Brunt seeding outfit that is making it possible for one man to do a once-over job of plowing, pulverizing, seeding and covering. It is built to do a good seeding job while working directly behind your John Deere three-bottom tractor plow.

The complete outfit consists of the well-known John Deere-Van Brunt Low Down Press Drill and a special pulverizer-packer attachment which runs ahead of the drill, crushing the lumps and removing air spaces just before the seed is deposited.

The pulverizer-packer attachment takes the place of the regular tongue truck on the John Deere-Van Brunt Pony Press Drill. It is either furnished as an extra, or as a part of the complete machine.

The Discovery of Scotland

During the late summer, when the Braemar, Oban, and Inverness Gatherings are held Scotland will be something like her ancient self, for all sorts of dances and feats of prowess will be seen on crowded "haughs" environed by the hills.

A recent Scottish writer has written a mordant book to show how Scotland comes very badly off at the hands of England in point of financial treatment. There can, however, be no doubt that on the romantic side Englishmen have done an immense deal to make Scotland the fascinating holiday resort it has become.

The pedigree of this movement is interesting. It began with Sir Walter Scott, the first writer of what we call "regional fiction." By his novels he drew more attention to Scotland than anybody had ever done before.

The next move was made by Queen Victoria, who devoured "Waverley" and grew immensely proud of being partly Scots, representing the female line of the Stuarts—though Scott himself was essentially a Jacobite. When she had the opportunity she took a house in Scotland and Society followed in her train, discovering quite apart from mere courtship that Scotland was a very detachable place for a holiday.

Among the other things that the Queen did was to revive many old Scots customs, even to the point of having a tartan invented for the tenants of Balmoral.

There was something very ironic in this, because, after the Jacobite rising, tartan and all the trappings of the Highlanders were severely suppressed in favour of her ancestors from the fear that the glamour of the plaid might awaken the embers of Jacobitism and set the Stuarts once more on the throne.

Every year sees a further interest in the Highland Gatherings, which, curiously enough some dour old Scots regard as a wholly theatrical display got up for "the Sassenach."

I can remember the time very well when hardly anybody wore kilts except soldiers, English tourists, and the Anglo-Scottish "Quality." Other Scots who ventured to do so were floured by some of their fellow countrymen.

But nowadays it is more worn than ever before, and the movement which is spreading in support of what the Scots call "Oor Ain Sels" is favorite to the revival of many old customs that had been allowed to die out.

It is perfectly natural that these should be favored by English folk, who have nothing of quite the same kind at home, although folk dancing is a close cousin. They want variety, and they find it in the Highland Gatherings, which are full of colour and picturesqueness—if only for once in the season.

The hills of course are always there and cannot be spoilt for one by trippers as so many "sea fronts" are.

He Prophesies Coming Weather

A Cardston man waxes peevish over the vague predictions which appear in the weather forecasts. He makes his complaint to the Lethbridge Herald and gives them a full bodied prediction which he says they can use or discard. They use it for later checking. Here it is:

"If I had been handing out an editorial re moisture for 1932, this is somewhat how it would run—I am not a weather prophet nor what would be termed an old timer yet I have been here in the west since 1911. Will say that for 1932 there will be plenty of rain for all crops generally (I am speaking of Southern Alberta). There will be rains each month of the growing season, more than we have had, by double the amount, for the past two years. There will be lots of rain in June (If you don't care to publish this you can hang it up where you can check up on it later).

There will be a good wheat crop year this time for the man who has his ground clean of weeds and thistles, who has kept his summerfallow black in 1931. But he must plant between April 5 and 20 to obtain the greatest yield, and free from frosts. Frosts this year will be earlier than last. The potato crop must be planted between May 19 and 26 to yield most. You will have to step on it this time—waste no time. Summer will begin with a bang—no spring to speak of—Vulcan Advocate

Vol. 1, No. 35 Arrowwood, April 14, 1932 Items for That

That Daily Mail

Again the citizens of Arrowwood and district are rallying to a just cause in petitioning the Postmaster General for a daily mail, and with the united support (for any worthy cause as has been proven in the past) by our people, we predict that this persistent stick-to-tiveness is not to be denied.

The rush is on in the seed cleaning business. It is very much cheaper to own your own machine than to hire the work done. We have the cleaners in any style that you may desire, Carter's, Viking's or the straight fanning mill.

For grading of a sample for seed the Viking mill with rolls can do you a job equal to any mill at the cost of a fanning mill.

Competition between truck and railroad service is shown in a new article by a letter recently to a reading paper, "Vulcan." A cattle raiser of Nebraska, Nebraska, tried out both methods, shipping cattle by truck and by railroad. On the railroad there was a shrinkage of 21 pounds for each animal; by truck there was a shrinkage of 98 pounds each. What the raiser saved on freight he much more than lost on the animals shipped by truck, where the value of the shrinkage amounted to $1.11 on each animal.
